

Selected Interviews with Robert G. Ingersoll

Volume 1

A controversial lecturer, brilliant lawyer, and arguably the most famous orator of the mid to late 1800's, Ingersoll railed against the absurdities of the Bible and cruelties of Christianity, particularly the horrific notion of "eternal damnation". He tirelessly supported the arts, education, science, women's rights, abolition, home, family, children, and human liberty. As a leader of the Freethought movement, his creed was: "Happiness is the only good, Reason the only torch, Justice the only worship, Humanity the only religion, and Love the only priest." He was often attacked in the press. Here are 30 published interviews in which Ingersoll spoke extemporaneously, biting, sometimes hilariously, on a wide range of topics with newspaper reporters of the day. (Compiled from The Works Of Robert G. Ingersoll, Volume 8, Dresden Edition, Published 1900
